

Joan Oliver Civic Center

Barcelona, Spain

In Barcelona's "Les Corts" district the one storey extension of the Joan Oliver Civic Centre has been finalized. As the new structure had to be light and airy, and as the building work had to cause as little disturbance as possible to the Arts Centre's activities it was decided to create this structure in combination with CLT massive wood panels and steel elements. The entire pre-fabrication of the CLT panels was another advantage.
