International House Sydney Sydney, Australia

Australia’s first wooden office building at Barangaroo, Sydney was built with CLT by Stora Enso (2 454 m³) and Glulam (951 m³) . The office building called International House Sydney has won numerous awards including the prestigious Athenaeum and European Centre for Design Award for International Architecture. It was built by Lendlease and the major structural components of the 7-storey office with almost 7 200 m² are made of CLT, produced at Stora Enso’s Ybbs unit in Austria.
