Odyssée

Guyancourt, France

Located in Guyancourt (78), in the heart of the Renault technocentre, the largest research and development centre in Europe, Odyssée is part of a low-carbon approach and is becoming a benchmark building in wood construction.

The operation, consisting of 4 floors of offices on a ground floor and an infrastructure level, is 150m long and 18m wide. It is composed of 2 mirrored buildings, connected by footbridges.

It represents 12,000 m² of wood as core, structure and facades.
